

Flipping a Patient from Adult to Q-MEWT

1. Open the patient's chart.
2. Select Obstetric View on the menu.
3. Click the Add a pregnancy link.
4. Complete the pregnancy details.

EDD	11/03/19 (Authoritative)
EGA	Delivered
Gravida/Parity	G1,P0(0,0,0,0)
Multiple Fetuses	No, Singleton
Feeding Plan	--

5. Select Alerts and Problems on the menu.
6. Check the pregnancy is added to the Problems list.

Life Cycle St...	Name of Problem	Annotated Display	Onset Date
Active	Pregnant	Pregnant	10-Jun-2018

7. Select Managing Deterioration on the menu.
Note that the patient now displays as Q-MEWT

8. Close the patient chart
9. Use the drop-down beside Recent to reopen your patient's chart.

It is important to close the patient's chart and reopen after adding a pregnancy to ensure the Interactive View alerts change from QADDS (Adult) to Q-MEWT.

Flipping a Patient from Q-MEWT Antenatal to Q-MEWT Intrapartum

1. Open your patient's chart.
2. Select Managing Deterioration.
3. Check that the patient shows as Q-MEWT.

4. Select Interactive View on the menu.
5. Select the Labour and Birthing Navigator Band.
6. Select the Labour/Birthing section.
7. Enter the Onset of established labour date/time information.
8. Close the patient chart by clicking .
9. Use the drop-down beside Recent to reopen your patient's chart.

Flipping a Patient from Q-MEWT Intrapartum to Q-MEWT Postnatal

10. Select Interactive View on the menu.
11. Select the Labour and Birthing NavBand.
12. Select the Labour/Birthing section.
13. Enter the Birth Date/Time information.
14. Close the patient chart by clicking .
15. Use the drop-down beside Recent to reopen your patient's chart.

At 6 weeks post-partum (6 weeks post Birth Date/Time) the patient's chart will automatically convert back to QADDS (Adult)